1. Reasons for Allowance

Claims 1-4 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... adjusting the color parameter of hue, saturation, and brightness of said second image file to minimize color flicker and brightness flicker in the apparent image viewed in said display device... and printing the adjusted said second digital file to provide a duplicate color print that closely matches said original image."

Claims 5-9 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... adjusting the color parameter of hue, saturation, and brightness stored in said press working image file to minimize color flicker and brightness flicker in the apparent image viewed in said display device... thereby providing a digital press printed duplicate color print that closely matches said original image."

Art Unit: 2626

Claims 10-14 are allowed for the reason the prior art does not teach or suggest in claimed combination, "... adjusting the inking and press process controls to minimize or eliminate flicker in said display device, thereby providing press printed duplicate color prints that closely match said original image. "
